

Riding the (radio)waves of change

26 September 2016, Bucharest, ROMANIA

As 2016 is the year when Romania celebrates 25 years of modern spectrum management and 150 years of membership to the International Telecommunication Union, ANCOM proposes two important and actual subjects – communications in emergency situations and Dynamic Spectrum Access. Under the theme “Riding the (RADIO) waves of change”, the conference will explore the way in which a regulatory authority can respond to today’s challenges related to security and emergency situations, as well as to the increasing need of valuable spectrum.
