

A Golden Compass for the End-users in an Interconnected World

»»» 22.10.2019, Bucharest

A doctor specializing in disaster medicine, Raed Arafat is the founder of the Romanian Mobile Emergency Service for Resuscitation and Extrication (SMURD), established in 1990. Starting 2007, Arafat has coordinated the activity of several strategic structures and programs for emergency situations. He has extensive experience in operational coordination of emergency services, has participated in and organized numerous training courses and seminars in the field of emergency medical care, control and coordination of emergency services, emergency management, etc. Raed Arafat is a member in several national and international scientific and professional organizations in the fields of Emergency Medicine and Disaster Medicine, and an author and co-author of numerous specialty books, documents and articles. He has received several academic titles and distinctions conferred by prestigious national and international organizations in the field, including that of Knight (Chevalier) of the Legion of Honour, conferred by the French President, the International Emergency Medicine Leadership Award from the American Academy of Emergency Medicine, that of Knight and Officer of the National Order for Merit, conferred by the President of Romania for lifetime achievement in scientific and research activity and for outstanding contribution to the development and advancement of information and communication technology in Romania.

ANCOM
National Authority for Management and Regulation in Communications of Romania